

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It was a strange experience!

Learning Outcome

Describe ways of solving problems and getting things done in social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What stories have you heard involving phantoms or ghosts?
- If you encountered a ghost, how would you feel?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss coincidences, strange events or superstitions.
- I can talk about cause and effect, and hypothetical situations.
- I can talk about things that happened or have happened.

Let's Explore!

Great Aunt Ethel lived in a farmhouse up north

* We can use the phrase "up north" to refer to the northern area of a city, state or country.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

I've always loved spending time in the country. I've spent many summers in northern Ontario with family, but I've never spent a more interesting one than in 1990. If you let me, I'll tell you what happened.

Great Aunt Ethel lived in a farmhouse up north. She was very old. If you asked her exactly how old, she would only smile. If you talked about her moving to an apartment, she would just shake her head. I adored her and stayed whenever I could. That's why I was there that night.

I arrived in the evening. If I think back, I can still remember how pale she looked - almost faded. Her waist-length hair was unpinned and she was unusually quiet. We looked at some old photographs. I told her about my life. If she spoke, it was only a few words. She seemed tired, so we went to bed early.

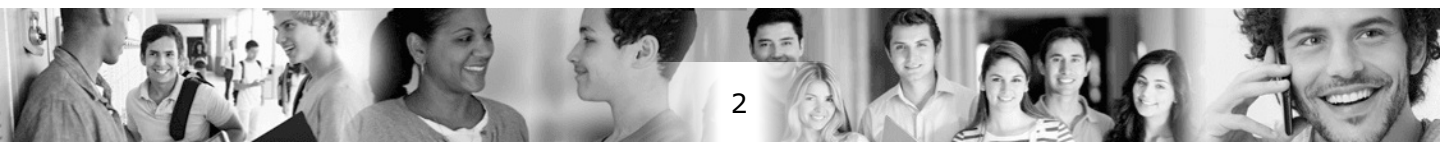

It was 2 a.m. when Aunt Ethel woke me. She was standing in the bedroom doorway with an old kerosene lamp in her hand. "I'm sorry Dora. I have to go," she said, then left.

I must have gone back to sleep. When I woke, my cousin Amy was there. "We forgot you were visiting," she said softly, "until Aunt Ethel said your name."

"What do you mean?" I asked.

"We took her to the hospital yesterday morning. She passed at two this morning."

I've thought about that night many times since then. I haven't got an explanation. Have you?

Let's Practice!

Let's talk about jails!

Instructions: Select the incorrect words in the sentence.

- 1) I had never slept in a jail.
- 2) Surprisingly, I have visiting several old jails in the past.
- 3) They hasn't turned the cells into luxury suites.
- 4) However, they have upgrade a little.
- 5) The hostel have become well-known by the adventurous.

Let's Practice!

Staying at a jailhouse hostel!

Instructions: Read the sentences below, circle the incorrect words, and write the correct ones above them.

- 1) You can't helped feelis a little closed in though.

- 2) She enjoying scare us with tales of ghosts.

- 3) We didn't consideration stayed again that night!

- 4) The owners have strived to retained a feeling the of authenticity in the cells.

- 5) I could hesitating to recommend it.

Extension Activity

Make up a ghost story.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Reread the text.
- Brainstorm ideas for your own ghost story and write out the points on a timeline.
- Write your story using the Present Perfect and Simple Past tenses.
- Use the first and second conditional if possible.
- Read your finished story aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I brainstorm ideas for a ghost story.

☐ ☐

I write the ideas on a timeline.

☐ ☐

I use the Present Perfect and Simple Past tenses to write the ghost story.

☐ ☐

I use the first and second conditional if possible.

☐ ☐

I share my story with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to shake your head (expression): to move your head from side to side meaning 'no' e.g. If you talked about her moving to an apartment, she would just shake her head.
- farmhouse (noun): a farmer's residence
e.g. Great Aunt Ethel lived in a farmhouse up north.
- pale (adjective): extremely white
e.g. If I think back, I can still remember how pale she looked.
- unpinned (adjective): allowed to fall loose
e.g. Her waist-length hair was unpinned and she was unusually quiet.
- to pass (verb): to die
e.g. She passed at two this morning.
- faded (adjective): faint in color
e.g. I can still remember how pale she looked - almost faded.
- doorway (noun): an opening to enter a building
e.g. She was standing in the bedroom doorway with an old kerosene lamp in her hand.
- kerosene (noun): a liquid fuel often used in old lamps
e.g. She was standing in the bedroom doorway with an old kerosene lamp in her hand.

Learning Points

The First Conditional vs. The Second Conditional

You use the first conditional to talk about real situations in the the present or future.

You use the second conditional to talk about unreal or imaginary (hypothetical) situations in the future.

First conditional form:

If + Simple Present verb, + will

If you come over, I'll help you with that.

(you can come over)

Second conditional form:

If + Simple Past verb, + would

If you had time, I would help you with that.

(I don't think or I know you don't have time)

First Conditional (Cause and Effect)	Second Conditional (Hypothetical Situations)
If I you let me, I'll tell you what happened.	If you asked her exactly how old, she would only smile.
If I think back, I can still remember how pale she looked - almost faded.	If you talked about her moving to an apartment, she would just shake her head.
	If she spoke, it was only a few words.

Remember to use a comma (,) after the IF clause.

In conversation, it is common to use contractions. (I would = I'd).

Learning Points

The Present Perfect Tense vs. The Simple Past Tense

You use the Present Perfect for actions which started in the past and are still happening now OR for finished actions which have a connection to the present.

You use the Simple Past for something that was finished at a certain period of time.

Rule	Example	Explanation
The Present Perfect is used when the time period has NOT finished.	I haven't got an explanation. I've thought about that night many times since then.	The time period goes up to the present.
The Simple Past is used when the time period HAS finished.	When I woke, my cousin Amy was there.	Last night has finished.

Examples:

- I've always loved spending time in the country.
I've spent many summers in northern Ontario with family, but I've never spent a more interesting one than in 1990.
- Great Aunt Ethel lived in a farmhouse up north.
She was very old.
I adored her and stayed whenever I could.
That's why I was there that night.

