

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It's hard to believe that it's from the Bronze Age!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe issues relating to money, in written and spoken situations according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What artifacts from prehistory have you seen in books, on TV or in person?
- What do you think life was like in your country 5000 years ago?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss coincidences, strange events or superstitions.
- I can talk about my attitudes toward an action.
- I can talk about things that happened or have happened.

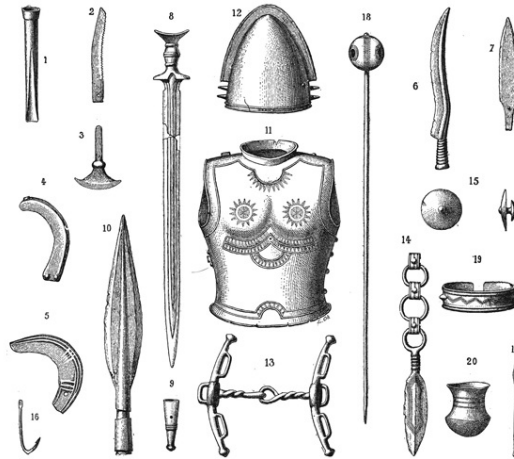

Let's Explore!

The Bronze Age started sometime after 3000 B.C.

* "B.C." means before Christ.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

The name Bronze Age is used to classify prehistoric societies. The first time that man used bronze for metalworking was sometime after 3000 BC. Not many people ever stop to wonder if people then wore underwear.

Very little is left from this period. Clothing fragments, if found, are rare. However, for those curious about ancient underclothing, something has come to light.

Archaeologists in England have found the wreckage of a Bronze Age boat. They have been studying their find carefully and systematically. To their surprise, they have come across something quite interesting.

They have reported finding a leather undergarment in the side of the boat. How did it get there you may ask? The archaeologists have spent some time coming up with a theory.

The most likely supposition goes something like this ... Some Bronze Age sailors were travelling through the English Channel when their boat got a hole in its side. Perhaps it hit a rock or was starting to rot. It began to take on water.

To stop the leak one of the sailors took off his leather underwear and used it to plug the hole. Leather swells when it's wet and therefore makes a perfect stopper. Because water was no longer flowing into the boat, they were able to continue on to their destination.

The leather garment succeeded in sealing the hole in the side of the boat until it was found last year.

Who could imagine having leather underwear, let alone that it could be so useful?

Let's Practice!

It happened in the Bronze Age!

Instructions: Complete the sentences with the options you are given.

- 1) The name Bronze Age is _____ prehistoric societies.
- 2) They have _____ a leather undergarment in the side of the boat.
- 3) Perhaps it hit a rock or was _____ rot.
- 4) it _____ take on water.
- 5) Who could _____ leather underwear.

Word Bank

- imagine to have
- begin to
- Using
- imagine having
- began to
- starting to
- reported finding

Let's Practice!

The Bronze Age started sometime after 3000 B.C.

Instructions: Read the sentences aloud. Check the pronunciation with your instructor.

- 1) The name Bronze Age is used to classify prehistoric societies.
- 2) Very little is left from this period. Clothing fragments, if found, are rare.
- 3) Archeologists in England have found the wreckage of a Bronze Age boat.
- 4) Some Bronze Age sailors were travelling through the English Channel when their boat got a hole in its side.
- 5) The leather garment succeeded in sealing the hole in the side of the boat until it was found last year.

Extension Activity

Write a description of an archaeological find in your country.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go to the library or use the Internet to find out about an archaeological find in your country.
- Make some notes about: who found it, where, when, how, and where the find is now kept.
- Use your notes to write up your description using the Past Simple and Present Perfect tenses.
- Read your description aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I find out about an archaeological find in my country.

☐ ☐

I make notes on the find answering who, what, where, how.

☐ ☐

I use the Past Simple and Present Perfect tenses to write the description.

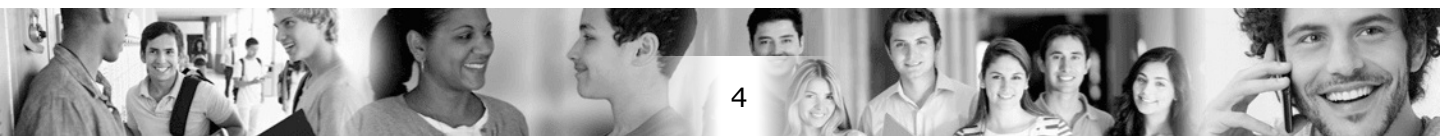

☐ ☐

I share my findings with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- prehistoric (adjective): relating to the time before written history e.g. The name Bronze Age is used to classify prehistoric societies.
- underwear (noun): clothing worn next to the skin under outer clothes e.g. Not many people ever stop to wonder if people then wore underwear.
- to come to light (expression): to appear e.g. Something interesting has come to light.
- fragment (noun): a small piece
e.g. Clothing fragments, if found, are rare.
- wreckage (noun): something damaged or destroyed
e.g. Archaeologists in England have found the wreckage of a Bronze Age boat.
- undergarment (noun): an article of underwear
e.g. They have reported finding a leather undergarment in the side of the boat.
- to take on water (expression): to fill with water through a hole in a boat e.g. The boat began to take on water.
- supposition (noun): an assumption e.g. The most likely supposition is that they needed something to plug the hole.
- to plug (verb): to fill with something e.g. To stop the leak one of the sailors took off his leather underwear and used it to plug the hole.
- to seal (verb): to close e.g. The leather garment succeeded in sealing the hole in the side of the boat until it was found last year.

Learning Points

Gerunds and Infinitives

A gerund is a verb ending with -ing (doing).

An infinitive is to + verb (to do).

There are some verbs that can only be followed by a gerund:

report (doing)
succeed in (doing) imagine (doing)
spend time (doing)

Example:

Who could imagine having leather underwear?

You always use a gerund after a verb that is followed by a preposition.

Example:

The leather garment succeeded in sealing the hole.

There are some verbs that can only be followed by an infinitive:

used (to do)
start (to do) begin (to do) able (to do)

Example:

Perhaps it hit a rock or was starting to rot.

There are some verbs that can be followed by an object plus an infinitive:

Example:

The sailor took off his leather underwear and used it to plug the hole.

Examples:

- The name Bronze Age is used to classify prehistoric societies.
- It began to take on water.
- They were able to continue on to their destination.
- They have reported finding a leather undergarment in the side of the boat.
- The archaeologists have spent some time coming up with a theory.

Present Perfect vs. Simple Past

Learning Points

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a finished action or event that is connected to the present in some way.

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished action or event not necessarily connected to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experiences.
When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

Look at the chart about how to form the Present Perfect tense. Remember there are regular and irregular verbs.

We use have/has + the past participle of the verb in Present Perfect sentences.

	Past tense form	Past participle form	Example
come	came	come	Something has come to light. find	found	found	Archaeologists in England have found the wreckage of a Bronze Age boat. come across	came across	come across	To their surprise, they have come across something quite interesting. spend	spent	spent	The archaeologists have spent some time coming up with a theory. plug	plugged	plugged	The sailors have plugged the hole. travel	traveled	traveled	Have you ever traveled through the English Channel?

Find a list of verbs and their past participle forms. Memorize as many as you can.

Examples:

- They have reported finding a leather undergarment in the side of the boat.
- How did it get there you may ask?
- They were traveling through the English Channel when their boat got a hole in its side.
- Perhaps it hit a rock or was starting to rot.
- It began to take on water.
- To stop the leak one of the sailors took off his leather underwear and used it to plug the hole.

Learning Points

- Because water was no longer flowing into the boat they were able to continue on to their destination.

